What now?

Outside the Bush Fire Danger Period

Your application will be processed and forwarded to our Compliance Team.
A Council Officer will contact you within five (5) days to arrange a time for inspection.

When assessing the application Council will take into account the following:

- impact on local air quality and amenity
- feasibility of reuse, recycling or other alternative means of disposal
- quantity of material and length of time that material is likely to burn
- potential for direct smoke impacts on neighbours and surrounding community
- cumulative effects of smoke on regional air quality
- compliance with standards for pile burning.

During the Bush Fire Danger Period

You will need to obtain a copy of an approved and current NSW RFS Fire Permit. This will form part of your application. Without an approved and current NSW RFS Fire Permit, your application will not be approved.
